

FIVE LUXURY GOLF COMMUNITIES YOU WILL LOVE TO CALL HOME

| BY DAMON M. BANKS

We have all seen the astonishing numbers of people leaving the cities and looking for beautiful communities to call home that can provide a better quality of life. Not to mention being able to play golf throughout the week while working remotely and balancing family, work and life. For those of you researching communities in hopes of making a move during 2021 to either work remotely or begin enjoying the life of retirement, these five luxury golf communities provide residents with an idyllic place to call home, and should be at the top of your list.

The game of golf is riding high at the moment, and there are no signs that this surge will slow down anytime soon. There were 10 million more rounds played during August 2020, when compared to this same month in 2019. This is an unbelievable 20 percent increase according to the National Golf Foundation. With the number of people shifting their perspective on life as a result of the pandemic, combined with the millions planning to play more golf in the years ahead, golf communities provide the amenities, homes/lots, services, locations and all-around lifestyle we want right now. In reality, this is the lifestyle that we all need right now.
